1. What are my obligations under the Policy for reporting Claims or potential claims?

You are required to provide Lancer Claims Services with notice of any Claim that is made against you (or an Insured under your policy) as soon as practicable during the same Policy Period in which you first receive notice.

A Claim does not need to be valid to be made against you. Claims without merit are frequently brought against agents and you have the same obligation to report a Claim that is unjustified or without merit as those based on an actual error or omission.

You should not wait until the Claim is actually made. If you become aware of any circumstances which may lead to a claim being made against you, report the circumstances immediately. If the potential claim develops into a Claim at some future date, your reporting will serve as a notice of Claim under this Policy Period.

E&O policies generally will not cover Claims that arise out of acts, errors, or omissions of which you had knowledge prior to enrolling if you knew on the date of your enrollment that such act, error, or omission could reasonably result in a Claim. For this reason, it is always better to err on the side of reporting any matters which you believe could result in a Claim being made against you during the same Policy Period in which you become aware of the potential claim.

2. What is considered a Claim?

A written demand received by an Insured for Damages (including pleadings received in a civil litigation or arbitration) because of an actual or alleged Wrongful Act or an actual or alleged Management Wrongful Act. A Claim does not include the following:

1. A demand for declaratory, injunctive or other non-monetary relief;
2. Any form of criminal proceeding; or
3. Any proceeding commenced by a governmental or quasi-governmental official or agency or any self-regulatory official or agency, including, but not limited to, any disciplinary proceedings by such official or agency, except if the agency or official is a client of the Insured in connection with the rendering of Professional Services.

This includes any appeal from proceedings identified in the paragraphs above. Claim does not include a demand or proceeding for non-monetary or injunctive relief or any criminal proceeding.

3. What is a potential claim?

A potential claim refers to any circumstances which may reasonably be expected to give rise to a Claim being made against an Insured. Some examples of what might be considered a potential claim include, but are not limited to:

- § a letter or phone call from a current or former client stating you made a mistake or that a mistake has occurred, but the client has not made a specific request for money or some action to "fix" the mistake or compensate the client for any alleged loss due to the mistake;
- § any threatened lawsuit, arbitration proceeding, or FINRA Statement of Claim; or
- § a notice of deposition or subpoena that you have received in a lawsuit or arbitration.
